NetDirector announces LexisNexis® alliance and new customer signings

Tampa, FL — July 25, 2006 – NetDirector, provider of the leading Data Exchange for the Mortgage Banking Industry, today announced the signing of a channel partner agreement with the risk management business unit of LexisNexis®. The systems integrator relationship will allow NetDirector subscribers to interface with the LexisNexis® suite of products. NetDirector's initial focus is the Accurint® Person Search which is already operational. Accurint® is a widely accepted locate-and-research tool available to government, law enforcement and commercial customers. Its proprietary data-linking technology returns search results in seconds to the users desktop. Plans are now underway to offer the Banko® interface for Bankruptcy Monitoring. Banko® consolidates and updates bankruptcy cases daily from all fifty states, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico.

Banko supplies comprehensive, timely bankruptcy data to help you minimize risk and maximize collection and recovery efforts. NetDirector provides a cost-effective hosted solution to automate transactions from a myriad of Vendor and Trading Partner Systems including: VendorScape, NewTrak, Countrywide, LenStar, Freddie Mac, Title Products, Process Servers, and various Publications.

Accurint® Interface

The NetDirector Person Search transaction allows customers to request and retrieve this Personal Data Verification without leaving their case management system. NetDirector customers will now have a real-time search and retrieval method and verification response. This automated process will significantly reduce the need for re-keying of data into the Accurint web-site for requests and eliminate double keying data into the client's case management system.

"As a NetDirector subscriber, our firm was able to quickly go live with the Accurint Interface" reports John Major, IT Director at Pierce & Associates, PC. "Our processors are already seeing the benefits of eliminating another data retrieval web-site. This new automated approach provides a 5 minute per search labor savings while improving data accuracy. This new interface is just another example of how NetDirector provides customer driven enhancements to its subscriber network."

New Customers

NetDirector is pleased to announce the following new attorney customers that have recently joined their Subscriber Network: Fein, Such, Kahn & Shepard (NY & NJ), Baer, Timberlake, Coulson & Cates (OK), Weiss Spicer (TN), Rosicki, Rosicki & Associates (NY), Laurito & Laurito (OH), Kellam & Pettit (NC), and Bishop, White & Marshall (WA, OR & ID). These firms chose NetDirector in order to outsource their interface automation and vendor support while accelerating their implementation speed. New vendors joining the network include: Eagle Vision Communications (Default Management), Quandis (Default Management), InfoTrack (Title Orders). These leading companies see the advantage trading data with multiple client systems with one connection to a centralized data exchange.

Dan Arcaro, IT Director at Fein Such Kahn & Shepard, PC shares his firm's experience with NetDirector. "We were pleasantly surprised with the ease and speed of deployment. We went live with Referrals in less than 15 business days with VendorScape, NewTrak, LenStar, and Countrywide! with the NetDirector's QuickStart implementation process and support team. We also like the User Group meetings that allow us to collaborate with other customers to share best practices. Our partners are looking forward to the immense time savings our staff will experience as we eliminate reporting system double-entry while improving our capacity.
